Trumpeter, 2006. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: "This book is as much about the very nature of parenting as it is about autism. The issues Senator raises are issues faced, in some measure, by every family, and she captures the hard work as well as the importance of enjoying life along the way. Making Peace is a book that every parent should read, for it provides tremendous insight into the mind of an autistic person, and is likely to engender compassion and understanding towards individuals with autism spectrum disorder." Pennsylvania Gazette "An honest, emotion-filled account of what it is like raising an autistic child, its effects on the family, marriage, and one's own test of strength." Brookline Tab "I hope the book succeeds in finding its way onto the bedside tables of many mothers and fathers, teachers and administrators, politicians and doctors. Regardless of whether they have anything to do with autism, they'll learn a lot about life from Senator, Nat, and their family. What this book shows us about acceptance and love would make the world a far better place." Timothy Shriver, CEO, Special Olympics "Families will gain much insight into how one family successfully coped with the challenges of raising an autistic child. Mothers, fathers, and siblings should read this honest account of family life with autism." Temple Grandin, Ph.D., author of Thinking in Pictures and Emergence: Labeled Autistic "This is a book that every parent and professional working with autistic children should own, read, and reread. These children have such enormous potential in their own way. It is so refreshing that this family sees it too." Margaret L. Bauman, M.D., associate professor of neurology, Harvard Medical School "Senator's story reminds us that while there are currently no medical treatments or cures...
